HOLLAND SAID that the man carried the gun, a snub nose .38 caliber revolver, in his left hand, and waited until the $178 was piled up on the counter before he picked it up.

HOLLAND ONLY stayed in the prone position for seconds before he arose and looked over the counter to see that the robber had left. He ran to the front door to see if he could find which direction the thief had gone, and as he stepped on the front porch a young woman walked up to him and handed him a "Get Acquainted" card, to be used this week during the Chamber of Commerce Get Acquainted Week.

TWO AMERICANS REACH 'FREEDOM'

VIENNA (UPI) — Two Americans, one of whom said he entered the Soviet Union to gather notes to prove Russia was planning war, crossed the Iron Curtain border to freedom today after undergoing a secret Soviet military trial in which they admitted they were "not normal tourists."

The two are Mark Kaminsky, 32, Jefferson Township, Mich., and Harvey Bennett, 26, Bath, Maine, who went to the Soviet Union in August as tourists. They disappeared and U. S. efforts to locate them were not successful until the Soviet Union announced last week they were being expelled as spies.

THE PAIR TURNED up in Austria today following seven weeks of detention in Kiev and Uzhgorod in the Soviet Ukraine.

Kaminsky said he had pleaded guilty to a charge of "collecting material and conducting activities incompatible with those of a regular tourist." He said he was sentenced to seven years imprisonment and then expelled.

Bennett was held as a witness, but he denied reports by the official Soviet Tass News agency that he denounced Kaminsky before a military court which tried him Sept. 12.

KAMINSKY SAID the Northcraft Educational Fund in Philadelphia had granted him and Bennett each a $2,000 scholarship to finance the trip.

Kaminsky said he planned originally to tour the Soviet Union for five weeks to gather information for a book "to show that the Soviet Union continually talks about peace but is preparing for war."

He had notes and films for his planned book when he and Bennett were picked up at Uzhgorod

BURGLAR CAUGHT IN ACT AT HOTEL

A 35-year-old Hollywood man was arrested here yesterday while he was committing a burglary of a hotel room at a local hotel, and his capture may solve more than three score of hotel burglaries both in Palm Springs and Las Vegas, police said.

In custody and charged with suspicion of burglary is Richard Len Kent, motion picture publicity photographer, and his alleged accomplice, Angel Cecilia Cote, 22, who gave her occupation as a model.

MISS COTE WAS driving a sports car, registered to a Los Angeles man who reportedly has a long record of armed robbery and kidnapping offenses. According to Det. Lt. Robert White, the description of the owner of the car is amazingly close to that given to Palm Springs police last night after Rasmussen's Western Shop was the victim of an armed robbery.

Three Men Arraigned on 'Cure' Charge

First Hearing Set for Nov. 1 In Justice Court

The three persons charged with operating a "cure-all" racket here have until Nov. 1 to come up with a cure for what ails them, namely the Riverside County District Attorney and the State Medical Board.

Oscar Mellon, George Winston Davies and Dr. Anton Raman Schenk were ordered to appear for preliminary hearing on Tuesday, Nov. 1, before Palm Springs Judicial District Judge Eugene Theriault.

JUDGE THERIAULT today withdrew the $1,000 bail for Dr. Schenk and reset it at $3,500, but left the other two as they were.

Following the hearing this morning, Det. Herb Shalles notified the attorney for the three men, James Hollaway, that Riverside Police Department was holding a warrant for the arrest of Davies, charging him with suspicion of fraud and grand theft, felonies, but could not serve the actual warrant because it had not been received from the Riverside law enforcement agency.

THE THREE MEN were arrested Sunday night after a six hour stakeout at a home at 1160 Asher Drive, where State Medical investigator David May had set up residence to "take the treatments" they were swelling.

May told The Desert Sun yesterday that he has been working on the case since 1958, and added that the men had claimed treating such well known people as actress Mary Pickford, actor Robert Cummings, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

Ike Confident New President To Follow Policy

RED WING, Minn. (AP) — President Eisenhower, swinging into Minnesota on a "nonpolitical" tour, said today he is confident the United States will elect a new president who will carry out programs he has started.

KENT WAS ARRESTED by Palm Springs Detective Carl Huslander as he was rifling the drawers of a hotel room in a local hotel about noon yesterday.

In the back seat of his $300 a month rental car, police found a cigar box which contained some 55 keys to hotel rooms both here and in Las Vegas.

Kent reportedly told police that the keys did not belong to him, but rather to Miss Cote, who he said was his accomplice in the local crime. He said she spotted the vacant rooms for him and while she watched the guests in the dining room or poolside, he entered the rooms.

ABILENE, Kas. (AP) — President Eisenhower today changed his plans to fly to Denver from Abilene, Kas., and said he will fly directly to Palm Springs — his favorite winter vacation spot. 'Adventurers' Warned to Stay Away from Cuba

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The State Department has issued a new warning for American adventurers to stay out of Cuba.

It said Monday that their intervention in Cuban affairs could have serious consequences for the United States as well as cost them their lives before a firing squad.

The department previously had urged Americans not to travel to Cuba unless they had "compelling reasons" to go there. No ban has been imposed on travel to Cuba, however.

Safe Kept in Closet

WEST HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—Jewelry and Coca-Cola stocks valued at $3 million were stolen from the home of retired New York stock broker Raoul Fernandez, 50, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Officers said the theft Monday night included one necklace with a 50-carat center stone valued at $500,000. Also stolen was $1,000 cash.

FERNANDEZ TOLD United Press International some of the missing jewelry, valued at $1 million once belonged to royalty, but he wasn't sure what pieces or what famous personages they had belonged to.

Included in the jewelry was a pearl necklace worth $25,000; six bracelets worth a total of $33,000; 20 watches worth $40,000, five gold cigar cases worth $10,000; one gold cigar case with a brown diamond — believed to be one of three such stones in the world — worth $20,000; his late wife's wedding ring, valued at $10,000, and a charm bracelet worth $8,000.

COCA-COLA STOCK valued at $2 million also was stolen by thieves who hauled away the loot in a 100-pound safe disguised as a cabinet and kept in Fernandez's bedroom closet.

Police said the stock was not negotiable since it required the owner's signature.

Fernandez told officers the jewelry and stock belonged to his wife, the former Catherine Chandler, who died four years ago. She was the heir to the Coca-Cola fortune, Fernandez said.

"I'M INSURED, BUT I'm not fully covered," Fernandez told United Press International. "I only have a small floater policy."

Fernandez said his home had been broken into Sept. 27 at which time $2,500 in cash was taken. He indicated the earlier burglaries might have been sizing up the onetime mansion, now split up into apartments, for the bigger theft.

"Recently I have kept the jewelry and stocks in the safe," Fernandez said. "We had the safe built like a cabinet and I always kept it in the bedroom closet. I don't know how many people knew the safe was in there."

Letter Writers Get Break--(Thank Foy)

By GEORGE LAINE

Every Tuesday morning I take a little vow. Never again, I say, will I allow Larry Foy to talk me into staying for dinner (although, goodness knows, his wife Rhodanne makes the best lasagna this side of Cicero's).

Anyway, sympathize with me. And let's allow the letter writers to fill the space for today.

Dear George,

As an avid and regular reader of your column — or should I say columns — it wonders me that you would think aloud and in print yet that such a serious matter as a bust of Hildy Crawford would evoke a "gag" from me. Beneath this Caesarian hairdo, you know, rests the brain of a real, 14-karat appreciator of the arts.

You might catch me sniggering if someone were to propose a steak be painted by Frank Day or that Martin Beck sit — or stand — for a full-length portrait in tights. But a bust of Hildy? Never.

This doesn't bother me as much as you might believe since I have become more or less accustomed to people maligning the more serious side of my personality. But I digress from the real point.

In short, George, I'm worried about your source of information.

You are ordinarily accurate and a devoted adherent to the nearly lost art of proper word selection but your choice of words in the text on the statuaries makes me ponder if you were not studying the California Dream Home's brochures before you sat down to your typewriter. "A Hildy in free-form blue" sounds more like a swimming pool to me than a bust of our gal. But, after all, Robinsons does have a large window so maybe you do know what you're doing. (For my benefit, please be specific: I may come to the unveiling and I want to dress for either a sculpting or a swim pool.)

George Shaw,

Los Angeles

You'll probably hear from Day and Beck under separate post, George, but I think you're unkind to my choice of words in describing the effort. Glen Gargyle said he thought I told the story well. (Are you mad at me?) Besides, the unveiling was Saturday and you didn't arrive, period. Where were you?

Dear George:

On behalf of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce and McFadden & Eddy Associates, I want to express appreciation for your serving on the selection committee for the Palm Springs Debs of the 1960-61 season.

Because all of the high school girls participating were most attractive, we know yours was a difficult decision to make in choosing 26. However, we were very pleased with the young ladies whom you selected as Debs and know they will be a credit to the City of Palm Springs.

Cliff Brown,

Palm Springs

(I wanted to mention, Cliff, that your promise I'd receive the rejects failed to come off. Don't wretch. Send 'em. (And remember me for the same job next year. I've not seen so many wild looking girls since the Princess Scherazade contest in Idaho last year.)

Dear Mr. Laine:

The luncheon will be held at the Howard Manor in Palm Springs at 12:30 p.m. on Friday, October 21st.

If you will be able to attend, would you please contact my secretary, Mrs. O'Hollis, so that reservations may be made in your name? I will look forward to seeing you then.

John O'Connor

Los Angeles

First of all, there's no Mrs. Laine. (You married guys are all alike, trying to get us bachelors married off. It isn't going to work on me, although the invitation will. I'll be there.)

Hi, stinker!

Me.

Las Vegas, Nev.

Please, no more mystery communications.

Dear Mr. Laine, Thanks so very much for the truly delightful article on Santa's Village appearing under your byline in the Desert Sun of September 15. It's great!

Our "thanks" are not so long in coming as you may surmise from the dates involved, for it was only today that the clipping service reached the article to us.

However, sincere appreciation. Jack Tierney, Los Angeles

Thanks to you, Jack. And don't forget to tell the whiskered creep to remember I moved since last Christmas and I'd hate to see Tina disappointed.

NOTES OFF THE CUFF: Phat Graettinger said the idea for the losing candidate to perform a weekly series for a TV station criticizing the winner's actions in the next four years would be a good one.

But, quizzed Phat, would it be a documentary, a news type show or a comedy?

(That'd depend on who was doing it, wouldn't it, Phat?)

SPEAKING OF POLITICS, Sinatra came up with about the best reply yet to the recurring blasts at entertainers who come out strong for their favorite candidate.

Frank pinpointed a certain chain of newspapers "who are campaigning for Nixon and throwing a lot of propaganda in. If this organization of newspapers can do it, then why shouldn't I just by singing?"

(Incidentally, Rep. Frederick J. Titcomb (R-Hawaii), who drew Sinatra's remark after a blast at Democrat stars who campaign for their heroes, ought to be told that there is a great stable of Republican actors and artists who campaign for their choices.)

'Author' Patrick Knowles Uses 'Actor' Patric Knowles Muchly

EVEN STEVEN, Patric Knowles, Vantage Press, 1960, 113 pgs., $3.75.

When he chooses to make the main character in his book a twin of many faces, it well may be that Patric Knowles, author, was influenced by the wide spectrum of Patric Knowles, actor.

The author's 65 movie credits as an actor range from playing Errol Flynn's brother in "The Charge of the Light Brigade" to Claudette Colbert's husband in "Three Came Home" and Ross Russell's 10-year-old friend in "Auntie Mame."

KNOWLES' TELEVISION experiences stretch from Studio One, Lux Video Theater, U. S. Steel, and Robert Montgomery Presents to the General Electric Theater, Hawaiian Eye, 77 Sunset Strip, and — just this week — the Barbara Stanwyck Show.

The book's title character is a Jack Lemmon-type fall-guy who keeps getting into hot water faster than he can climb back out of it. Different readers will laugh out loud at different "catastrophes," but breathe there a man with soul so sober that he can read his whole segment with a straight face? I doubt it!

IN ENGLAND, THE incident of the bugle brings a catch to the throat, while the encounter with the Nazi pilot brings a sense of mysticism not quite defined, but felt nevertheless.

In Canada, Steven's faced with the task of training pilots for the

Saund Rips Jameson for 'No Record'

Jameson Failure To Take a Stand Rapped by Incumbent

Congressman D. S. Saund chided his Republican opponent Charles Jameson for his lack "of a record of any kind" and his failure to state with he stands for when Saund encountered the GOP candidate for the first time on a platform — and invaded his home town of Corona.

The occasions were a noon meeting of Riverside Kiwanis Clubs and a night meeting of Corona area Democrats, both on Oct. 13.

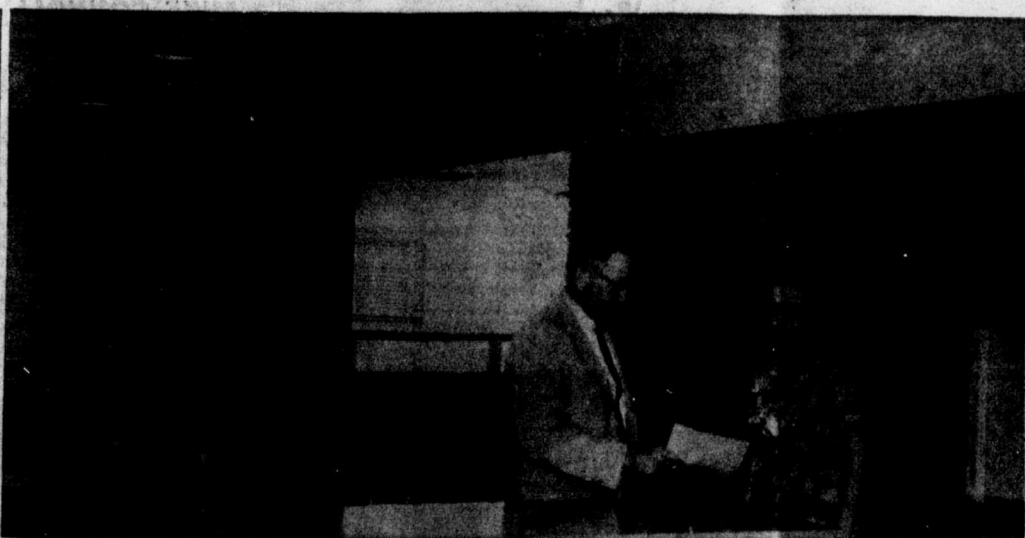

SAUND LIKENED Jameson to his 1958 Republican opponent John Babbage as "tall, young and handsome" — but with one difference. Babbage (whom Saund beat by 26,000 votes) "at least had a record in the state legislature which I could talk about, but my present opponent has absolutely no record of any kind," the incumbent Democratic Congressman said.

In contrast, Saund emphasized his four-year record of accomplishment for Riverside and Imperial Counties, his unique position on two major committees of the House of Representatives, his seniority, experience and friendship with his colleagues in Washington. He urged voters of the 29th Congressional District to protect their investment in him and return him to Congress for a third time.

SAUND ADMONISHED Jameson for speaking platitudes about the Republican party platform — in particular his recent statement on civil rights "that got big headlines in the newspapers."

Saund asked: "Does my opponent have any record to show he has helped minority groups in his own home town? Are there any Mexican people in the employ of my opponent who hold managerial positions?" Saund declared, "That is the test — words come easy." Saund cited his own background in caste-bound India and he quoted from a speech he made on the floor of the House of Representatives in which he urged passage of the civil rights bill.

He rebuked Jameson for attempting to link him with views which Jameson attributed to the California Democratic Council because the council endorsed the 29th District Representative Saund said, "Many groups endorsed me, but their endorsement does not mean that I hold their views."

"NEW LOOK" FOR THE INDIO POLICE Department, completed this week, with much of the lobby area decreased to expand the records and communications section of the police facility. Pictured above, Police Chief Pat Cunningham gives a report to Edythe Sawyer, while Sgt. Don Manton takes care of some records. The change, less than a year after the department's new building was completed, was brought about when the city switchboard was installed at the Police Department. (Desert Sun Photo)

DEAR ABBY: Last December my employer proposed to me. I accepted but no ring was offered. He said he couldn't afford it. (I keep his books and if he can't afford it, nobody can.) This morning a small parcel arrived at the office, addressed to him and insured for $12. I put it on his desk. He told me it was a set of rings he ordered from a mail order catalogue and I should open it "when I had time."

NOT AMUSED

DEAR NOT: If you accepted the proposal, you're engaged — ring or no ring. And if you intend to marry this joker, you'd better develop a sense of humor.

DEAR ABBY: You may be an expert on the birds and bees but you sure don't know anything about fruit. When fruit is washed before it is put into the refrigerator, it spoils more quickly.

FARMER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Not according to the Agricultural Department of the U. of California. If fruit is carefully dried, it may be washed before storing in the refrigerator. Only one exception — and that's the berries!

DEAR ABBY: Tell OLDEST DAUGHTER to quit feeling sorry for herself. If any child has the right to sing the blues, it's the middle child. I am three years younger than my sister, who is the oldest. When we were young I had to do all the pots and pans because her hands had to look nice for her dates. I never got new clothes because Mom could make over Sister's hand-me-downs. I got blamed for the fights with my younger brother because I was "older" and should know better. I had to take him everywhere I went because he wasn't old enough to stay by himself. This all happened 32 years ago, but I remember it well. And when Dad's will was read — everything was divided equally between the three children.

MIDDLE CHILD

DEAR ABBY: My son, who is in the third grade is being exposed to a certain phase of sex education in the classroom that does not meet with my approval. His teacher is "expecting." She announced it to the class!

The children watch for her daily progress and ask her a lot of questions, which my son says she answers.

She told from she was entering her fifth month and plans to teach through the seventh.

I always thought it was the parents' place to tell their children the facts of life, not a stranger's. A third grader has plenty of time to learn these things, and now he is asking ME questions. I resent having been pushed into explaining things before he is ready. My neighbor says I am narrow-minded. Am I?

ONE BOY'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A child who is old enough to ask, is old enough to be told. Exposure to motherhood in the development stages can do your son no harm. I think he is fortunate to have such a teacher.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "S.O.S."

Every problem has a solution — even if it's only learning to live with it. I cannot answer you in the paper. Please send me your name and address.

Better Take the Plunge

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Ordinarily the policy of Dog in the Manger might not fit the highest American ideals. But an exception may be noted. In the new West African Republics, especially in those of Ghana, Guinea and the Congo, there is an enormous potential in aluminum production.

America and the West do not particularly need it — not, at least, right now. But if we don't move in and take it, the Soviet bloc will. In fact, Russia, the East European satellites and Red China are already there in force. A Russia-Guinea Trade Agreement for 1960-63 was signed last May. If we don't get a wiggle on it, it'll be too late.

THE SIZE OF THE prize is what Hollywood would call stupendous. The Commerce Department tells me that in Guinea alone the reserves of bauxite (basic ore for the production of aluminum) are one-fifth of the present known world reserves. The rest of West Africa is almost as richly endowed.

This South Atlantic exposure of the Dark Continent is superlatively well-off for the other two chief ingredients of aluminum manufacture. There are big rivers near the coast for hydroelectric power. There are deep water harbors for world-wide transportation.

OF COURSE, WE could get along without any more aluminum sources for quite a while. Economists, industrialists and Government survey-makers are all agreed on that. But the use of this product as a light, strong, relatively inexpensive building material for nearly everything from skyscrapers to kitchen skillets is growing faster than anybody thought likely. The world now consumes about six million tons a year. Demand will double by the 1970's — and for many decades to come.

Thus there are obvious advantages in getting into the West African aluminum business — and getting there fast. Something like 10 Western World firms, including all the big American and Canadian companies, are making serious motions about going into production. IT IS TOUGH pioneering work — physically, financially and diplomatically. There are highways and railroads to be built amid spectacular difficulties, harbor facilities to construct, rivers to dam. The costs, up in the hundreds of millions of dollars, are so great that only the complex and integrated structure of Government plus private loans, grants and guarantees can possibly suffice.

There are also far-from-imaginary risks of losing the whole investment through the revolutionary convulsions and through the subtle torment with which small nations bedevil guest (ne "imperialist") companies. A Castro-type expropriation makes headlines. But an overseas American firm can be nibbled to death in relative obscurity by having its water cut off, its labor contract dictated, its sites arbitrarily rezoned, its taxes inched up.

THERE WOULD almost have to be air-tight Government guarantees to the investing firms. This is not an ideal arrangement. But we lost a relatively small advantage by hemming and hawing over the Aswan Dam in Egypt where Russia became the major bidder.

If the Soviet bloc grabs the West African aluminum potential, we will have lost a mammoth opportunity — which a quarter century from now might hurt us very badly indeed. —Holmes Alexander

Suggestion for Bomber

NEW YORK—Here is a suggestion to the New York police department, harassed lately by mad bombings: If a bomber is caught red-handed before his charge goes off, block off the streets and force him at proper gunpoint to carry the ticking thing on foot to the bomb-disposal yard in darkest Staten Island. Without benefit of catcher's mask or waterwings.

THERE SURELY must be greater issues in the presidential campaign than the relative costs of Pat's and Jackie's wardrobes and whether or not to go to war over two chips of real estate named Quernoy and Matsui.

Let's get down to brass tacks, gentlemen. Where do you stand on daytime TV serials? How about commercials that are five times longer than the rest of the show? What can the average car owner who hasn't paid for his upswipe tail model do in a down-swept tail market? Who was responsible for the strategy used by Stengel and Murtaugh in the World Series?

HOW SHALL WE retaliate against Khrushchev for snubbing our good friend Castro—massively? Who gets custody of George Allen in the next administration?

What about the strange disappearance of Tess Trueheart? Should "sick" and "insulting" comedians enjoy right-to-work privileges? Something like that.

IF THIS IS NOT possible at this sensitive stage of the campaign, let's at least have answers that parse sentences that start in some other way than to imply that what has just been said is a cockeyed lie, interrogators with prettier necks, "shooting sticks" that a weary candidate can squat back on while his opponent is accusing him of complicity in the Gay Paves plot, and no cozy handshakes when the debate is finished.

The picture of that warm handshake immediately after debate No. 2 reminded old sportswriters of the disillusionment of years ago when they first learned that professional wrasslers who had just turned in a seemingly fang-taring, eye-gouging, leg-cracking, head-crunching match rode off to the next town sharing an upper berth.

IF KHRUSHCHEV had really wanted to break up UN he could have done so by ramming through a motion forbidding any speaker to open a sentence with "as is well known . . ." or he might have insisted on an embargo on all references to "the distinguished delegate from . . ." Before this assembly ends I expect to hear a distinguished delegate say "and may I say that the distinguished delegate from Ruritania is a louse?"

UNCLE'S SAMOS, the American satellite that failed to orbit Tuesday, probably cost $25 million. You know, Atlas Booster, costly second stage that fizzled, payload with its cameras, solar batteries, senders, receivers, etc., and the cost of designing packaging, shipping and launching the big bird.

Startling, but hardly a record fizzle.

IN PURSUIT of the best method of separating fissionable uranium from its chemically similar dross, during World War II, we dropped one fruitless process after spending $300 million.

To speed the work of another process the atomic wizard borrowed nearly all the silver owned by the U.S. Treasury. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who headed this fantastic effort, once said "we spent $2 billion developing the Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombs. At that rate you can say that each bomb cost $1 billion."

Editor, The Desert Sun

Mining in the United States is not actually dead. It is in a state of suspended animation, and could be revived by the proper legislative and executive procedure.

A ray of hope was engendered at the Republican National Convention July 1960 — by the adoption of the Republican Platform — under "Natural Resources," the program includes:

"Minerals, metals, fuels, also call for carefully considered actions in view of the repeated failure of Democratic controlled Congresses to enact any long range Minerals legislation. Republicans, therefore, pledge:

Long range minerals and fuels planning and programming including increased coal research. Assistance to mining industries in bridging the gap between peak defense demands and anticipated peacetime demands.

Continued support for Federal financial assistance and incentive under our tax laws to encourage exploration for domestic sources of minerals and metals, with reasonable depletion allowances."

Countless thousands of skilled miners have been forced to leave their homes in mineral bearing areas and seek employment in any occupation including ditch digging to cotton picking. This is a vicious and deplorable situation which has gradually developed in the principal mining states like CREEPING PARALYSIS, breaking the spirit of the most optimistic workers in the United States. The Prospectors and small mine operators.

Considering that Mining ranks next to Agriculture it should not be relegated to a lost art in the United States because of cheap labor and cost productions in other countries. At any moment critical need for domestic production could occur without the proper provisions for emergencies.

Mining can not be turned on and off like water in a faucet. Thousands of mines are even filled with water, the timbers rotted, ground caved, and in a dangerous condition.

As these lines are being written, I have before me, thanks to Charlie Dometrius — Arrowhead Office Equipment Co., Indio, Calif., a reprint of the San Francisco Chronicle of Monday, Dec. 8, 1941 — with scare head line type.

Those of our Mining organization engaged for years in fighting for MINERS RIGHTS, feel that we have at last won the sympathy of our Republican leaders. As a typical illustration, is the letter of May 26, 1960, which reads as follows:

Dear Mr. Dunn:
It was good of you to return our registration card and to write as you did on May 22. I want you to know how much I appreciate the interest that prompted you to do so.

I have read the clippings you enclosed in your letter and I am quite sure that you will find, during the course of the campaign, that the Vice President is very much aware of the problems of the mining industry and by no means indifferent to them.

I shall be glad to pass your letter along. Thank you again for your expression of interest and support. Sincerely yours, Peter M. Flanagan, National Director.

They learn as they work
And gain useful poise,
While doing a job,
These newspaper boys.

Pardon me, the above is a little late. They changed the rules on me this year and made Newspaperboys' Day the first day of National Newspaper Week instead of the last as in former years.

Anyway, this is National Newspaper Week and last Saturday, the day it started, was National Newspaperboys' Day.

SO IT SEEMS apropos, although maybe a bit late, to say something about the boys, who put the finishing touches on the day's job of "getting out the paper."

The carrier boys who get it to you in the afternoon. They take over after the adults have about finished for the day.

Sometimes you might get a bit irked when your paper skips under a bush or stops short and you have to walk a few extra steps.

But could you hit a target with 100 per cent accuracy?

WITH THE LARGE number of papers delivered each day the percentage of "misses" is remarkably low.

For among the other things a newsboy learns which help him develop into a valuable citizen later, is responsibility.

Newsboy carrier boys learn a lot of other valuable lessons in a big help in life.

Besides responsibility, they gain valuable business knowledge, lessons in salesmanship, experience in financial matters.

Your newsboy is learning the importance of service and its rewards. It's an all around training job.

IF YOU DOUBT that statement about experience and training, take a look at some of our biggest men who received their training as newsboys.

The list is a long one. Cleo Craig, head of the AT&T, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Jack Dempsey, Joe DiMaggio, Walt Disney, Thomas Edison, Ed Sullivan, Justice Earl Warren to name a few.

STAN DELAPLANE: Night and Day

The sun rose this morning on fashionable Copacabana beach. But the fashionable inhabitants did not rise with it.

Today is election day and you couldn't get a chopp for all the world.

A chopp is a glass of draught beer and rates very high with the Carioca — the person who lives in Rio de Janeiro is a "Carioca."

THE DRYING UP period for elections starts at six the night before when Brazilians throughout the nation are restricted to beer and wine. On election day (as with us) no liquor is sold at all. This goes on until midnight.

This is really no hardship on the Carioca.

In Rio, life does not begin until midnight. So the only mourning you hear is for the night before election.

THE COUNTRY is a little larger than the U.S. It has about a third as many people.

The national language is Portuguese — the only country in Latin America that does not speak Spanish.

The money is the cruzeiro — 6-10 of a U.S. cent on the exchange. An airline ticket counter clerk makes 7,000 cruzeiros a month; $42. However, a first-class secretary, who is able to take dictation and write and speak in Portuguese, Spanish and English, makes 35,000 a month, or $210.

THERE IS NO black market in money. The cruzeiro exchange is free. But you get a better rate in exchange shops than at hotels. The latter take about $1.80 on the $100. This is normal in hotels all over the world. But it still enrages me.

There is a black market in almost everything else. And great Brazilian fortunes have been founded on smuggling cars up Brazil's rivers.

THE WAY IT WAS explained to me: "They take the cars up the river — naturally, you have to pay some people to look the other way. They strip the cars of bumpers, wheels, hubcaps."

Now, is you want to buy a car at lower cost — the duty here is 100 per cent — you buy the equipment as extra parts. A month or so later, the black market man will find the stripped car in the jungle.

The government then allows these useless cars to be sold for junk at auction. You buy the junk, put your parts on it and there you are."

IT IS SPRING in Rio now. A rather humid, pale sun preview to a summer that is a good deal like the miserable heat of Washington, D. C.

It is in the February summer that Rio holds its carnival — the most riotous, hypnotic, strange piece of mass hysteria I ever saw. For weeks before carnival, the Cariocas hold practice weekend sessions. They move through the streets in a samba shuffle, eyes glazed and faces without expression.

"IT IS POSSIBLE," said a Rio newspaperman, "it is from sniffing the ether. People shoot you on the bare skin with an atomizer full of ether. It feels ice cold. If you sniff enough of this stuff you get quite a jag."

It is too early for carnival practice yet. But I took ride the other day up to the hillside slums they call Favelas. (Did you see the picture "Black Orpheus"? That's it.)

THE MASTER of the Samba school said they would start writing songs for carnival in about a week. He invited me over. I gave him my last pack of American cigarettes.

American cigarettes cost 60 cents. But when I tried to buy some, the driver looked shocked. He drove me to the nearest hotel and bought some on the black market from the bellboy.

"WE DO NOT MIND smuggling in Rio," he said. "We have a saying here: 'Everything hangs easy in Rio. Even the murderer on the gallows.'"

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Debbie Subs for Joan

HOLLYWOOD — Joan Crawford couldn't repeat her TV venture as fennec of Hollywood's annual Deb Star Ball because she was taping another TV show. So Debbie Reynolds subbed for her. You could have smuggled Mickey Rooney across the border in just one of those huge, beehive hairdos so many of this year's look-alike Deb Stars wore. Funny bit: the Debs spent two hours getting their hair done at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, then drove over to the Palladium for the party — in open convertibles! — and got the hairdos all messed. Luckily, the party was sponsored by Hollywood's Make-up Artists and Hair Stylists Union (Local 706), so the dolls got re-done in double-quick time.

MISS REYNOLDS, same party, introduced starlet Shelley Fabares, Nanette Fabray's niece as follows: "She's 16½ years old — gee, I remember that!"

Susan Kelly, who is blonde, beautiful, 23 and has an I. Q. of 164 and a six-year-old son named Kenny Kelly, got signed to a long-term contract at Allied Artists, where producer Al Zucksmith had signed her for a one-shot in Dondi after catching her in a TV show. Susan's first under her new ticket will be Confessions of an Opium Eater. Susan tells me her son calls it Confessions of an Oatmeal Eater.

PARAMOUNT PICTURES proxy Barney Balaban is bankrolling a bunch of Vote for Nixon shorts for TV and theatres.

A modern-day Pony Express is being organized among Hollywood's TV stars to wend its way to Washington, D. C., after the elections. The caravan will stop at towns en route, "to alert America to the threat of communism."

If you wondered how Rod Serling snagged Bob Cummings as guest star on the Twilight Zone segment that tees off Serling's new season series, it was a "package deal." In order to bag Bob, Rod had to agree to write one episode of The Bob Cummings Show for FREE.

GEORGE CUKOR, who directed Marilyn Monroe in Let's Make Love, guested with just one on Oscar Levant show. Just before showtime, George told me: "Y'know, I don't care what anyone else says — I LIKE working with Oscar. It's like working with Marilyn. They're both nervous."

Peter Potter is peddling the one about the independent hen who stomped on all her eggs and cackled, "I'm a strong advocate of bird control!"

HOLLYWOOD HOTSTUFF — George Cahan, who will produce and direct The Sleeping Partner, starring Jean Pierre Aumont, gave the part of the prostitute to his wife, Alix Talton.

Kim Novak mixed a salary of $500,000 in the Mirisch Roman Candle in favor of doing Celebration at Fox for much less money. Kim considers the latter a "career-building" part — because Bill Inge, who wrote it for Broadway as Loss of Roses, also wrote Kim's favorite part to date in Picnic.

EDDIE DMYTRYK is sitting out a $2,500-per-week contract at Paramount — doing nothing. He was supposed to direct Audrey Hepburn in The Mountain is Young. But Audrey's been busy having a baby and filling other film commitments. Besides, The Mountain never (as a book) achieved the bestsellerdom forecast for it — and after Paramount paid the tremendous pre-publication price of $350,000! I guess they'll wait for the paperback edition. If that's a best-seller they'll proceed apace with the picture.

Anne Helm (the doll desired by Jack Ging in Desire in the Dust) tells me: "I was a Copacabana chorus girl at 16 but my mom pulled me out of the line — to keep me in line!"

JOAN CRAWFORD and Ingrid Bergman are slugging it out to play the part of the mother in U-I's filmization of The Chalk Garden. The cards are stacked for Joan, since producer Ross Hunter doesn't like to shoot overseas and Ingrid does.

Discussions have started for Sir Alec Guinness to play Leopold Bloom in Jerry Ward's Ulysses, with Larry Harvey as Stephen Dedalus, Alec's "son."

AND WALD is being flooded with mail from students of James Joyce with suggestions on how to shoot this difficult project by their idol, the so-called "High Priest of the Cult of the Unintelligible."

So-called, I might add, solely by those who don't take the trouble to read him carefully.

ATOMIC AGE POOL PURIFIER that eliminates the need of harsh chemicals in swimming pools was demonstrated at a recent meeting of the Pool Maintenance Association. Admen Seek End Avenue' Label To 'Madison'

CORONADO (UP) — An advertising executive today told the Association of American Advertising Agencies that advertising men should do something about changing the meaning of the Madison Avenue label tagged on their business.

Norman H. Strouse of New York, president of the J. Walter Thompson Co., said in a speech prepared for delivery to the 500 delegates attending the 23rd annual convention of the council that there appeared little hope in dodging the Madison Avenue label.

"The fact that our business seems to be embarrassed by the label in itself would seem to encourage its negative use by those who are not friendly to the economic concept of advertising or those who wish to use it as a whipping boy," he said.

Strouse urged that advertising men take positive actions such as foregoing the fast buck and displaying a sense of responsibility in trying to change the label into a favorable term.

NEW POOL WATER PURIFIER DEBUTS

Aquatrol, revolutionary new electronic system for purifying home swimming pools without the use of harsh chemicals, was explained to some 40 members of the Pool Maintenance Association at the group's recent dinner meeting at Palm Springs Lanes.

Co-inventor Edwin Block, former research director of Hughes Aircraft, told PMA members that the Aquatrol System is "certain to become standard equipment, once desert pool owners appreciate its superior health and safety advantages."

AQUATROL ELIMINATES the need for chlorine and acid in pool maintenance, and ends forever the problem of irritation to eyes, skin and hair caused by harsh chemical purifiers, stated Block.

Tracing the history of man's efforts to purify water for drinking and bathing, Block credited scientists of King Solomon's time with discovery of the fact that water kept in a silver or copper bowl tends to remain pure.

For this reason ancient Roman aqueducts were lined with copper ore. However, the metal caused certain harmful side effects to water stored for a period of time in metal containers.

AMERICAN AND British scientists failed in attempts to develop a water purifying system using the ionization effects of silver and copper in both World Wars.

During development of the cobalt bomb, new electronic transistors and semi-conductors made possible the combination of ancient knowledge with new space age techniques. The result is the Aquatrol System, stated Block.

First used to kill algae and bacteria in water storage tanks throughout the nation, the Aquatrol system was adapted for use in family swimming pools a year and a half ago.

Today, more than 4,000 are in use according to inventor Block.

THE SYSTEM IS SO effective, a pool owner can actually drink the water from his pool, Block said.

The Aquatrol system is fully automatic, fits any pool, and is economical, Block declared.

Other Aquatrol officials who addressed the group were co-inventor Jay Block, manufacturer Bernard Lurie, and Palm Springs area distributors J. J. Flieger and Jay Whitford Gordon.

Presiding over the meeting was Dick Hill, president of the Pool Maintenance Association.

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 18, the 282nd day of the year with 74 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history: In 1767, the boundary line between Maryland and Pennsylvania, popularly called the Mason-Dixon line, was finally settled.

In 1867, at ceremonies marking the formal transfer of Alaska from Russia to the United States, the Russian flag was lowered in front of the governor's residence in Sitka and the U. S. flag raised in its place.

In 1873, representatives of Princeton, Yale, Rutgers and Columbia met in New York and drew up the first rules to govern intercollegiate football.

In 1892, the first commercial long-distance telephone line was opened from New York to Chicago.

Thought for today: Scottish writer Robert Louis Stevenson said: "To be what we are, and to become what we are capable of becoming is the only end of life."

Voters Get Warning on 'Hate' Drive

Committee Says Anti-Catholic Drive is Readied

NEW YORK — (UP) — American voters faced a warning today that an all-out anti-Catholic hate campaign will be turned loose on the nation eight days before election day in an effort to keep Sen. John F. Kennedy from being elected president.

"In every election cursed by dirty campaigning, the worst lies always appear at the last minute," said Bruce L. Felkner, Executive director of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee.

WHILE FELKNOR'S warning was issued in a Bedford Village, N.Y., Presbyterian church Sunday, the Rev. Dr. Carl J. Giers, pastor of the Tremont Temple Baptist Church in Boston, New England's largest Protestant church, said that a Catholic president would not fulfill his oath of office if he did so would be sinful.

Giers, preaching in Kennedy's home city, said a Catholic textbook which he did not identify taught that "A promise under oath to do something sinful does not bind at all." Giers added: "Anything against the dictates of the church is a sin."

ANOTHER BAPTIST preacher, the Rev. William Ward Ayer, said from the pulpit of a New York church that "it is not bigotry to question the religion of any man where his religion would interfere in any way with the constitution."

Ayer, a radio evangelist whose program was discontinued by a Metropolitan New York station, said in a sermon entitled "America—stay Protestant or Perish" that if Protestantism died in the United States, the Bible would be prohibited and books would be burned. He said Protestants should "stand for the liberty Christ has given us" in casting their election vote.

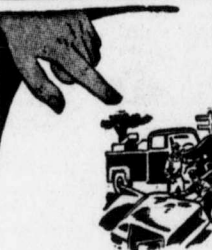

FELKNOR SAID THAT the Democrat and a Roman Catholic, out of the White House, will be stepped up by anti-Catholics on Reformation Sunday, Oct. 30. "For months now plans have been under way on two levels to turn Reformation Sunday into a gigantic anti-Kennedy rally," he said. "One level is an interdenominational Association of Fundamentalists Churches. The other is an amalgam of hate-mongers and bigots."

FREEWAY FOR FREIGHT

Every day an average of 725 freight trains roll over Southern Pacific's 14,900-mile rail network in 11 Western and Southwestern states. They carry a daily average of nearly 300,000 tons of things produced, needed and used by people and industry. The ride is swift and smooth on a wide-open steel "freeway"—maintained at our expense, not the taxpayers'. No doubt about it, trains are the lowest-cost, most efficient form of transportation for carrying freight overland.

SEE-WAY FOR PEOPLE

What better way to take in the glamorama of our West and Southwest than through the big, wide-angle picture windows of an S. P. streamliner. Twenty-five running every day, on our east-west routes and on the Coast. Curl up in your comfortable Chair Car seat or Pullman room and watch the show go by... mountains, valleys, lakes, forests, shoreline, desert, cities. Relaxed surroundings for dining or refreshments, and polite, attentive service everywhere on board.

Racquet Club's Opening Party Draws Capacity Crowd

Around Town

... with Hildy Crawford

When Roger Smith (star of "77 Sunset Strip") met Mouse Powell at the Racquet Club's opening party... he asked her how she was getting along with the ukelele... It was the first time they had met since he taught her to play the ukelele six years ago on the beach at Waikiki... The handsome young television star and his wife Victoria Shaw were in the crowd of stars... who lent the usual Hollywood touch to the opening... Security Officer Harvey Henderson... who was there with the Gus Kettmanns... was a reminder of next weekend when the Presidential party will be the stellar attraction...

That model... and man of distinction Stewart Hall... who was featured recently in full page ads in metropolitan dailies... was a reminder of the MAGIC-BAG convention in full swing at the Riviera... He was escorting Joan McManus and Dorothy Garza...

With our host Charlie Farrell on one side of me... and Gardner McKay (tall, dark and handsome star of "Adventures in Paradise" on the other)... Bill Powell across the table... and a first rate prime rib on my plate in front of me... it took the flash and flare of Newsreel's camera lights photographing arriving celebrities to distract my attention...

Lovely Dana Wynter arrived with her distinguished looking husband Greg Bautzer... who paused to say "hello"... Marie MacDonald... who was week-ending at the Club... as was exotic Ziva Rodana... Susan Kohner and her fiancé George Hamilton were an item on the dance floor... Ray Ryan and Nancy Holmes arrived with the Bob Mortons...

The Eddie Susallas and Dorothy Kelly were other Farrell guests... but the Ralph Kinnors didn't make it as they had hoped to...

Santors Ends 14th Year at Harbor Springs

Mr. and Mrs. Santos De Jesus, and family have returned from Harbor Springs, Michigan, where he has completed his 14th year as manager of the exclusive Little Harbor Club there. The club, which has members from all over the United States and Canada also, has a few Thunderbird members including Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Breech and the Kent Hayes, who spent the summer there. All of Santos' family, with the exception of son Morris and his family, who remained here, spent the summer at Harbor Springs. Foster, who was recently wed, has returned to Yale University, where he is doing graduate work in architecture; Nelson has returned to the University of Wisconsin; Prentiss is back at Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island; Linda at St. Theresa, and the twins are freshmen at Palm Springs High School.

Entertains at Cocktail Party

Roy Randolph entertained at a cocktail party at his home on El Alameda Friday evening honoring his houseguest, Ariste Melendez Gomez, manager of the Rosarita Beach Hotel in Mexico. The group which included Messrs and Mrs. Harold Simon, A. R. Simon, Stanton Graham, Mrs. Lee Olson, Suzie Simon and Lee De Stefano, attended the opening of Bermuda Dunes that same evening.

They sent a wire of good wishes instead...

At the table next to ours in the Garden Room... they were celebrating Barbara Hinkle's birthday... In this group were the Hinkles, Helen and Jack Kenaston, the Lou Monseaus and Barbara's sister and brother-in-law the Carl Barretts...

The Joe Halls and Milton Prells stopped by the table... and we encountered the Bill Lees on the dance floor... Jack Fugitt was with the Earl Hendersons... The Billy Maloufs were table hopping... The Bob Alexanders and the George Alexanders were there... The George Wheelers were with the Irwin Eisenbergs...

One of the largest parties was hosted by the Carl Lesermans and included Ed Rothbarts, Frank Berings, Dorothy Gray and Harry Joe Brown, the Lester Selogs... Mary Dayton, John Morris, the Asher Levys, Gar Moore and Brazilian Consul Raul de Smaudek (Isabelle isn't here yet)...

Dr. and Mrs. Julius Kaplan were with the Sam Borkis and Zachary Pitts... Also in the capacity crowd were the Bill Codys, Russ Wades, Lionel Steinbergs, Louise Nicoletti... and many, many more...

Among the many out-of-town publicists were King Kennedy, Lisa Wilson and Carter Ludlow and his wife...

Helen Kenaston says her horse Rebel is feeding the other horses that carry the Kenaston colors... Rebel broke the track record when he won the $10,000 stakes race at Tanforan a week ago... and won the allowance race on Saturday...

Those "Best of Life" photographs on display at the Desert Museum are wonderful... the collection of Indian baskets is well-arranged and interesting... and don't miss the corner of early day Palm Springs relics...

Pat (Mrs. Chester) Moorten... who was presiding at the coffee and cider and doughnuts table... which was decorated with an original cactus arrangement she had made... was wearing a red and white necklace and earrings that looked attractive on her... until

ANNA MARIA, ALAN KING ARE GUEST

Songstress Anna Maria Alberghetti and comedian Alan King join Marion Lorne, Carol Burnett and Durward Kirby on "The Garry Moore Show" Tuesday, Oct. 18 (CBS Television Network, 10-11 p.m., p.s.t.). As an added filip, vaudeville great Blossom Seeley will be featured in a number in the "Wonderful Year" segment of the program.

"That Wonderful Year" for this week will be 1920. In the film clips to be shown are some scenes from the Paris peace conference, Harding and Coolidge just after their election and the famous Man O'War winning a race.

THE SONG MEDLEY includes such great favorites as "Look for the Silver Lining," "Avalon," "Maggie," "Whispering," "My Mammy" and "I'll Be With You in Apple Blossom Time."

Miss Seeley, who was one of the great headliners of vaudeville in 1920, will come on to sing "When My Baby Smiles at Me." The finale production number, featuring Maria Alberghetti, will be built around the song "That Naughty Waltz."

MOORE, CAROL Burnett, Alan King and Durward Kirby are seen in a sketch titled "Twilight Zone," which spoofs a current television series. Miss Lorne, who was featured in a song-and-dance number in one of the "Wonderful Year" segments last season, steps out again as she sings "A Young Man's Fancy" in the song medley of this week's "Year."

As one of her songs, Miss Alberghetti sings "I Have Dreamed" and comedian King, naturally, will deliver himself of a few of the hard facts of life in Suburbia.

SOMETHING NEW EVERY MINUTE

Variety Paying Off in Pro Football Games

By OSCAR FRALEY, United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—In pro football, you've got to keep it as fresh as home baking if you want to have a winner.

Two groups of gargantuan gridiron gentlemen who have been very successful with a set football formula proved that in the Sunday rock and roll sessions.

RED SCHOENDIENST, second baseman given his unconditional release by the Milwaukee Braves, is job-hunting. He was offered an office job with Milwaukee but said he'd rather shop around for a playing job.

Iowa Takes Over Lead in Grid Ratings

NEW YORK (UPI)—Iowa, scoring heavily in secondary votes, wrestled the No. 1 spot in major college football away from Mississippi today in the weekly ratings by the United Press International Board of Coaches.

The Hawkeyes, who defeated Wisconsin, 28-21, last Saturday to run their record for the season to 4-0, received only 10 first-place votes from the 35-member board of famous coaches. Mississippi was voted in first place by 16 coaches.

HOWEVER, IOWA scored much more heavily in second and third place votes and finished with a total of 305 points to Mississippi's 299. Ole Miss had held the top spot just one week, taking over last week in place of defending national champion Syracuse which had been the leader in early weeks.

Syracuse, which sank to fourth place last week, staged a mild comeback this week and climbed back to third place with 277 points.

Iowa will have to risk its No. 1 ranking this week against Purdue, which now is ranked No. 8. Purdue handed Ohio State a 24-21 defeat last Saturday, knocking the Buckeyes down from third place to 10th.

MISSISSIPPI, however, also is in for a tough game. The Rebels, with a 5-0 mark, visit Arkansas, ranked No. 11 this week as a result of its 24-23 victory over Texas.

Behind the top three in the ratings, Navy moved from fifth place to fourth while Minnesota jumped from eighth to fifth. Missouri held the No. 6 slot and Baylor remained at No. 7. Behind eighth-place Purdue, Washington moved up from 13th to ninth and then came Ohio State in 10th.

They perform as the Baltimore Colts and the Cleveland Browns. Ordinarily they are regarded as one-man teams named Johnny Unitas and Jimmy Brown.

But it wasn't that way this past week 'em Sabbath.

To give you an idea, the James Browns of Cleveland rolled, as we put it, roughshod over the Dallas Cowboys by the impressive count of 48-7. In such circumstances, the massive James ordinarily would have lugged the leather, as we put it, for roughly as many yards as there are in a mile.

SO WHAT HAPPENED in this strange story - book and Frank Merriwell land of pro football? A fellow named Bobby Mitchell scored three touchdowns out of seven compiled by the Browns. Jimmy Brown scored only one, carried the ball only seven times and made only 25 yards. This was for him, tantamount to a day off.

Then there was the embroglio between the Baltimore Colts, shooting for their third straight league championship - no longer endorsed as the "world" championship since another league now is in operation - and the Los Angeles Rams. The Colts won, 31-17, which isn't actually red hot news since this was the Rams' 12th straight loss over two seasons.

But the manner of their undoing was little less than sensational.

As mustard is to hot dogs, as Jimmy Brown is to Cleveland and as ham is to eggs, so too is Johnny Unitas to the Baltimore Colts.

BUT, BY SHEER DESIGN, he wasn't Johnny on the spot Sunday. Lenny Moore was the big man with four touchdowns. Unitas was called upon to hurl only one touch down pass, just to keep alive his string of having pitched TD passes in 41 consecutive games. It is to be hazardous that, had the Colts been in trouble, Master John would have shipped the leather for whatever was necessary in the matter of six-pointers.

"But we are striving for variety in our offense this year," explained coach Weeb Ewbank. "We're mixing it up. No, more isn't going to run all the time like he did today. But our new play for the day was a wing right with Moore as the key and it worked. Next week we'll have something new for the game at Detroit."

IN THE PLAY to which Ewbank referred, Moore was stationed behind the right tackle. Unitas wheeled, faked a quick pass and then thrust the ball into Moore's maddled hands. Lenny went through a narrow alley opened by the offensive linemen. It resulted in two of Moore's touchdown runs.

It paid off, of course, primarily because the defense was Unitas-shy. But it points up the key to success in pro football - something new every minute.

It is, in the end, what separates the winners from the losers.

Mays Hits Pair of Homers and Double

HONOLULU (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants departed for a barnstorming tour of Japan today after a brilliant performance in a two-game series here against the Hawaiian all-stars.

Four San Francisco hurlers combined talents for a no-hitter Monday night, and the amazing Willie Mays clouted two three-run homers and a double.

NEW TEACHING PRO at Indian Wells Country Club, Max Evans of Detroit, is welcomed to the club by Eddie Susalla, club pro-manager, at right, and Danny Farini, Susalla's assistant. Evans will aid Pro Bud Porter in handling the teaching at the local golf course. He played the PGA tour for eight years and is a close friend of many of the Indian Wells members. (Desert Sun Photo)

Casey Stengel Fired After Ten Pennants

NEW YORK (UPI)—Casey Stengel was fired today as manager of the New York Yankees after piloting them to 10 American League pennants and seven world championships.

"I was told that my services will not be desired any longer," Stengel told a press conference in a New York hotel.

THE YANKEES ANNOUNCED they will hold another press conference Thursday at which time it is expected that Stengel's successor would be named. It was believed that Coach Ralph Houk was in line to succeed Stengel.

"Del Webb and Dan Topping are in agreement that there should be an age limit," Casey said in announcing that he had in effect been fired at the age of 70.

Topping said that he hoped the five-year wait after retirement rule would be waived so that Stengel could be elected to baseball's Hall of Fame "as quickly as possible."

He also said that through the Yankee profit-sharing plan Casey

gel could be elected to baseball's Hall of Fame "as quickly as possible."

He also said that through the Yankee profit-sharing plan Casey

on Oct. 31 would "have an amount exceeding $160,000 to his credit as a so-called bonus."

Stengel spoke rapidly and appeared a bit more nervous than usual.

"I ran the ball club," he insisted. "I want to thank all the players on the team. I also want to thank the press."

CASEY SAID, "I am not thinking about taking a job inside or outside of baseball at the present time," but said he would have to think over his future plans.

When Stengel succeeded Bucky Harris as manager of the Yankees in October, 1949, he said: "They're not kidding me about this job. All you gotta do is lose once and you're out. But as long as you win, you're okay."

Pressed as to whether he was leaving "under a cloud," Stengel said, "definitely not."

Huskies Leading Big Five Teams In Total Offense

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Washington, on the road to a second straight Rose Bowl bid, leads the Big Five in total offense, rushing offense, scoring defense, and rushing defense, statistics including Saturday's games revealed today.

However, UCLA took over the leadership in total defense while bowing to the Huskies; and also leads in passing offense and defense.

The Bruins have allowed only 232 yards per game, against 267 for the second-place Washington.

Washington has allowed only 89 yards a game in rushing by the opponents; has picked up 231 yards total offense each tilt; and leads in rushing with 219 yards a game.

Stanford, trounced by San Jose State, plunged from second to fifth in rushing offense and California fell from fourth to last in rushing defense.

FORT KNOX, Ky. (UPI)—Yankee pitcher Bill Stafford and Orioles shortstop Ron Hansen underwent their second day of initial processing after being sworn into the U.S. Army here Monday.

Johnson of San Jose Chosen Back of Week

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—It never fails. Leave a guy like John Johnson out of the pre-season dope book and he scores seven of eight San Jose State's touchdowns to date including four against Stanford.

The churning fullback from Port Arthur, Tex., rates as the United Press International's West Coast back of the week off last Saturday's performance in which his four td's led the Spartans to their 34-20 upset of woebegone Stanford.

Coach Bob Titchenal had expected to use Ken Taylor as his fullback this year and Johnson wasn't even expected to suit up. But Johnny boy got the grades he needed at Los Angeles City College to make it into San Jose and Titchenal isn't complaining.

Twenty-three days after enrolling, Johnson scored all three of the Spartans' touchdowns in their 21-8 triumph over Brigham Young. On Saturday he scored three times on jolts from close up and added a 29-yard scoring sortie through the Indian secondary.

So he rates as a good man to have around—even if a good man is hard to find at times in the press book.

The UP linemen of the week is Mike Rose, Oregon guard who came to the Ducks as a fullback then was sent into the line. Rose, always a solid performer, reverted to form on Saturday by picking off a deflected Washington State pass and running 29 yards for a touchdown in Oregon's 21-12 win over the Cougars.

Parnassus Seeks World Bantam Bout

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Matchmaker George Parnassus will head for London Saturday to sign the winner of the Alphonse Hallimi-Freddy Gilroy fight for a match that may decide who will reign as world bantamweight champion.

Ruth McCullah Tops Desert Event at 79

Leads by One After First Day

Mrs. Ruth McCullah of Riviera Country Club took an early lead in the Third Annual Desert Event of the Southern California Women's Golf Association when she toured the Indian Wells Country Club course in 39-40-79.

Betty Loveys of Lakeside was 43 on the first nine but came back with a sparkling 38 on the second to take second spot with an 80.

THREE HUNDRED Southland women golfers were participating in the 36-hole medal play tournament, playing over three desert area courses, Indian Wells, Eldorado and Bermuda Dunes Country Clubs.

Low handicappers played Indian Wells yesterday and will shift to Eldorado today for the final round. The 14-17 bracket played Eldorado Monday while Class C (18-20) played Bermuda Dunes. All groups change courses today.

THE TOURNAMENT is the third annual Desert Event and attracted a record field this year.

Face and Smith Score Success In Singing Act

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Ace Pittsburgh Pirates relief pitcher Elroy Face proved he could sing as well as sling Monday night while catcher Hal Smith showed he was just as much at home behind home plate.

The two Pirates, who figured prominently in the 1960 World Series, opened a night club act at the Holiday House in which they sang Western tunes. They were received with enthusiasm by the audience.

Hawks, Warriors In Player Deal

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Hawks and the Philadelphia Warriors pulled off a three-player deal Monday that saw the Hawks acquire two players in the hope of improving their scoring and rebounding strength.

The Hawks gave up forward Ed Conlin and an undisclosed amount of cash for 6-7 Woody Sauldsberry and backliner Ernie Beck.

The Hawks are now one man over the 12-player limit that must be met by Saturday.

ELROY FACE, the Pittsburgh Pirates' "fireman" who was called in four times to "put out the fire" in the world series, dons a fireman's helmet and sits at the wheel of a fire truck to symbolize his big job for the Bucs.

NO FAVORITISM ON JANUARY 1

Best Available Teams To Play in Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The best available football team in the nation will represent the East in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day regardless of conference affiliation. Adm. Tom Hamilton of the Athletic Association of Western Universities announced Monday.

Hamilton told the Southern California Football Writers Association that Syracuse and Navy, two of the top independents in the nation, were as much in the running for the bowl bid as Big Ten schools.

He said this was possible under a Big Ten ruling permitting their schools to consider a Rose Bowl bid on an individual rather than a conference basis.

"We don't favor anybody or any conference," Hamilton said. "We are going to pick the best opposition we can get."

VOTE MARLIN M'KEEVER BEST BIG FIVE LINEMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Marlin McKeever of Southern California was named the Big Five's lineman of the week today as a result of his performance against California last Saturday.

McKeever, according to Big Five observers, excelled in all phases of play from his end spot. He caught a pass for nine yards, recovered a fumble and handled punting chores for the Trojans.

Most of all, he effectively rushed the Bears' fine passer, Randy Gold.

Back of the week honors went to Washington's Bob Hyner, who took over when Bob Schloredt was hurt in the second period and went on to quarterback the Huskies to a 19-8 win over UCLA.

Hyner clicked on key passes to keep two scoring drives going and was the holder when George Fleming's vital field goal gave Washington its winning margin.

Schloredt took over last season when Hyner was hurt and quickly became one of the nation's great quarterbacks. Now, with Schloredt injured, Hyner again will have the opportunity to lead the powerful Huskies in their bid for a second straight Rose Bowl appearance.

Volleyball Season Starts Tomorrow In Indian Gym

Fourth annual adult Volleyball program will get under way tonight at Palm Springs High School gymnasium, Roy W. Grow, recreation supervisor for the city, said today.

He urged all over 18 years of age who are interested to be on hand as teams will be formed and play started in a six-club league.

Volleyball players have been practicing on the new courts back of the Polo Grounds Wednesday night but tomorrow night will move indoors for the league season.

Wednesday night's activities will start at 8 o'clock.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Antonio Marcilli, a promising welterweight from Argentina, battles Eddie (baby Face) Pace tonight in the 10-round main event at Olympic Auditorium.

Marcilli, who has compiled a 24-3 record including 16 knockouts, was a member of the 1956 Argentine Olympic boxing team and turned pro the following year. Pace, who hails from neighboring Santa Monica, comes into the bout with an upset victory over Silvestre Villarreal last month.
